ORIGINAL

The most weird gift that Queen Elizabeth ever got. Even Queen's grandmother got concerned about it. Let me explain. Despite having given away all his possessions to fight for India's independence, Indian leader Mahatma Gandhi wanted to gift Queen Elizabeth something for her wedding in 1947. Lord Mountbatten, the last governor general of India, suggested Gandhi could create something from yarn, which he did and gifted to the Queen. However, Queen Mary, Queen Elizabeth's grandmother, mistook the hand-spun lace tray covered from Mahatma Gandhi's loincloth and called it indelicate. This was just a cultural misunderstanding, and Queen Elizabeth graciously accepted the gift.

When you consume something, it must be of a simple genetic code. It must be a very simple software. Vegetables, fruits, non sprout, they are very simple. More complicated means animal food becomes more and more complicated. Suppose you eat an animal which has some amount of emotion and the life of its own. This is the most complex software. So if you eat an animal, particularly a mammal, it has similar kind of complexity, maybe not as complex as this, because it has thought an emotion of its own. Now for you to break that code and integrate it into your system, you are not fully successful. So it will leave traces of certain qualities within you. Otherwise, the best food would be eat the human flesh. Because it's same, you cannot break that code and make it a part of yours because it's a different and complex code. If you must eat non-vegetarian food, you must eat that which is furthest away from you. Fish and water life is furthest away from you. Fish is the best thing to eat that way.

WITH NOISE

Do you know some of the top level athletes have shifted to vegetarian diet these days. Most of the martial arts people are all hundred percent vegetarian. Are you aware? Their physical prowess is quite incredible, you know and most of the martial arts people are vegetarian. Bruce Lee was vegetarian. Do you know that? Because the the flexibility of the muscle will be lost with too much non vegetarian food. Non vegetarian food is mainly consumed because you need protein. Almost every vegetable every fruit if it is eaten in its raw condition has the necessary protein that your body wants. With non vegetarian food the protein content is too high. If you consume too much protein it causes cancer.
